

JUNE 17, 2010 1:00 TO 3:00

ICWA:

Purposes, Procedures & Practice Implications

Trainer: Jerry Foxhoven, Director of the Middleton Children's Rights Center & Associate Professor at the Drake University School of Law

ICWA Training Focus

- Federal and State ICWA Overview
- Casework Strategies: Applying the provisions of ICWA to your practice to better serve Native American children
- Documentation Recommendations: Forms that facilitate best practice
- Analysis of ICWA Cases on Appeal or Appealed: Lessons learned that can improve your work with Native American children and families
- Legislative Changes Impacting ICWA

How to Register

DHS Staff: Please enroll in CC 324 ICWA: Purposes, Procedures & Practice Implications via your Area Training Coordinator. Questions may be directed to Mary Jo Beckman at mbeckma@dhs.state.ia.us.

Non-DHS Staff: Please email the following information to Sue Strever at Sue.Strever@uni.edu.

- Name, and email address of registrant
- Employer name, address, and registrant's job title
- Last 4 digits of registrant's Social Security Number

Registration Deadline: June 11th

This training will be presented as a webinar.

You will be able to attend the training without leaving your home or office, hearing it on your telephone, while you watch in on your computer screen.

After you register you will be emailed a confirmation which will provide directions explaining how you will be connected to the presentation.

Social Work CEUs will be awarded at no cost to everyone who lists a license number and mailing address on the attendance sheet.

Who Should Attend?

Members of First Nations, DHS Staff, Service Providers, Foster Parents, Judges, Attorneys, Juvenile Court Staff, Social Workers, Volunteers, and others interested in Native American issues.